

Wesley Theological Seminary Doctor of Ministry Program

Leading as a Missional Entrepreneur in the Carolinas

This partnership between Wesley Theological Seminary and Pfeiffer University will apply best resources in practical theology and best practices in administration to the specific needs and opportunities for entrepreneurial leadership in the Carolinas. This DMin will provide skills for

- doing the right things well: effective administration for missional leadership;
- creating new paths of missional leadership: missional entrepreneurship and innovation; and
- raising up new communities of vibrant ministry: incarnational community organizing.

The two overarching goals of the track are spiritual formation through a cohort of communal support and accountability and developing increased capacity for increased engagement with multiple forms of diversity.
