Due March 10, 2017: posted to Blackboard under Assignments

Your assignment for this first segment:

Read:

You Are My People: An Introduction to the Prophets by Louis Stulman and Hyun Paul Kim

A Theological Introduction to the Old Testament, pp. 257-380 complete this work.

Paper:

A ten-page paper (double-spaced, Times New Roman 12 font) is due March 11, 2017, posted Blackboard (BB) by clicking on Assignments.

Paper topic:

- Choose 2 pre-exilic prophets (Amos, Hosea, Micah, or Isaiah of Jerusalem [Isa 1-39]), and 2 exilic prophets (Jeremiah, Isaiah of Babylon [Isa 40-55], or Ezekiel).
- Summarize the main message or theme of each prophet and the historical situation each was addressing. Please be specific; cite supporting texts from each one with chapter and verse (do not write out the entire quote).
- Be sure to reference the required readings in your answer.
- Suggest one way in which each of the 4 prophets you have chosen addresses us today and why we need to hear what each has to say.

April 21, 2017

Read:

Spirituality of the Psalms by Walter Brueggemann
Wisdom Literature by Richard Clifford

Paper:

A ten-page paper (double-spaced, Times New Roman 12 font) is due April 21, posted on Blackboard under Assignments.

Answer the following questions:

- Use Psalm 13 to illustrate the typical lament structure, that is, talk about the parts of a psalm lament. Do you feel that laments can be useful in your ministry? Why or why not?
- The Book of Job gives varied answers to the question about innocent human suffering. What are they? Cite passages from Job to support your answer (do not reproduce whole textual quotes but do indicate chapter and verse numbers). What is Job's reaction to what his friends and God tell him? How does Gutierrez (article on Blackboard) explain the book of Job? What do you think is the central message of the book of Job?

Course Outline:

March: The Prophets: Disaster and Deliverance

April: Psalms and Wisdom Literature

Grading:

The instructor assumes that everyone in the class is capable of the work required to receive a "B" grade for each assignment. The following interpretations of the meaning of each grade have been developed to help class members review their work to identify strengths and problems.

A "B" means that the basic elements of the assignment have been faithfully included, the argument is internally coherent, and clearly articulated.

A "B+" means the assignment is also well crafted.

An “A-“ means that the assignment is not only well crafted, but it also probes the issues with considerable insight.

An “A” means the assignment is well crafted, reveals considerable insight, and moves beyond the range of the student’s prior knowledge to begin to construct new perspectives and meanings for the subject. In other words, it shows the student’s imagination at work; it has a creative edge.

A “C+” means that the assignment lacks clarity or focus, tends to reveal more the writer’s opinions than the results of the writer’s analysis, and lacks reflective insight into the issues being discussed.

A “C” means that the assignment does not move beyond the reporting of information from readings and/or class discussions to engaging them with issues being discussed; it may indicate inappropriate or misuse of data and readings.

A “C-“ means that despite some moments of focused discussion and insight, major gaps exist in the development of the argument or discussion.

A “D” means the individual needs to see me.

An “F” means the individual needs to see me immediately.

Grades will be reduced a step (e.g. from B to a B-) for assignments handed in after the start of class, and a full letter grade for any assignments 24 hours past due. Assignments over 48 hours past due will be lowered two letter grades. We need to talk if an assignment is over 72 hours past due. Please note only two unexcused absences are allowed before grade is lowered one step.

Final course grades are mailed to the student, GBHEM in Nashville and the student’s conference representative by September 30. Grades are not posted on-line.

Inclusive Language

In both oral and written contributions to the course, students are expected to be conscious of the power of language in theology. Inclusive language respects both gender and racial diversity, and students should demonstrate awareness that language about persons and God expresses values and impacts theological ideas in the details of race and gender connotations. Both gender and race are socially-constructed categories, and changing language is part of bringing justice to theological discourse.

Academic Policies

Attendance: Students are expected to attend all classes in their entirety. Faculty members have the authority to set attendance policies for particular courses and those policies will be included in the course syllabus. Deviation from the attendance policy may result in reduction of grade or loss of credit for the course.

Plagiarism: Plagiarism is regarded as a serious offense and will result in substantial penalties, including the possibility of academic dismissal. The faculty regards the following as forms of plagiarism or dishonesty:

- Copying from another student's paper
- Giving or receiving unauthorized assistance to or from another student during an examination
- Using unauthorized material during an examination
- Borrowing or presenting as one's own (i.e. without proper attribution) the composition or ideas of another.
