INTERCULTURAL IMMERSION IN THE WESLEY CURRICULUM

Intercultural Immersion in the Wesley Curriculum

The mission of Wesley Theological Seminary (WTS) is to “equip persons for Christian ministry and leadership in the church and the world, to advance theological scholarship, and to model a prophetic voice in the public square.” In its Mission Statement, the Seminary affirms an education commitment that:

- Seeks to “ground learning in the scripture and traditions that provide the church’s identity in the gospel, and to prepare students for the practice of ministry. Therefore, every part of the curriculum is theological in character, and practically related to the church’s life. The educational process is designed to bring classroom and field learning into complementary relationship”;
- “Embraces a renewed global vision of ministry, as we learn from the experiences of Christians in other lands. We are open to dialogue with all the world’s varied communities, and welcome cooperation with all who work for peace and justice.”
- Is to “equip the whole people of God for the work of ministry.”

It is in light of these commitments that the Seminary has designed the PMM requirements of the Master’s Degree curriculum to include an Intercultural Immersion experience. The immersion requirement is seen as integral to an educational process which addresses the mission of the church in the world and which prepares persons for church leadership.

SECTION TWO

GOALS OF THE INTERCULTURAL IMMERSION EXPERIENCE

Goals of the Intercultural Immersion Experience

Participants in immersion experiences will be able to:

- Demonstrate a familiarity with another culture, and models of ministry within that cultural context through sharing in their ministry settings;
- Articulate self-knowledge in a new cultural context, especially to relate beliefs and attendant patterns of action and interaction rooted in stereotypes of persons and cultures;
- Identify the systemic issues that interconnect the global and local contexts for ministry;
- Demonstrate intercultural theological understanding on justice issues;
- Articulate a vision of the church inclusive of social and personal transformation;
- Integrate learnings from other seminary courses and insights from the PMM or SPP setting with the immersion experience;
- Connect the generative power of the gospel message with its expressions in other cultures; and
- Incorporate into ministry a broadened view of what it means to be human and Christian.

SECTION THREE
IMMERSION DESIGN STANDARDS

Immersion Design Standards

Premise

An immersion experience is designed to promote intercultural knowledge that enlarges a student's universe of human discourse. Immersion experiences focus on the particularity of a cultural group while at once exposing both common and separate constructions of social reality.

Immersion requires a definition of culture. For Wesley Theological Seminary immersion experiences, culture is defined as: 1) a socially established structure of meaning through which people interpret their experience and generate behavior; 2) a context in which belief, behavior, ritual processes, social events, institutions and political discourses can be intelligently reported; and 3) the product of a human group to be grasped in its particularity and in terms of global processes of interconnection and change.

Wesley Theological Seminary immersion programs take place in an intercultural context either internationally or within the United States. All students are required to participate in an orientation prior to the immersion experience and a debriefing shortly after the immersion period. The orientation and debriefing sessions are led by Wesley Theological Seminary faculty.

Design Content

Immersion experiences will enable students to understand another way of life from the perspective of the host community. They are designed to facilitate a process of learning from people that will extend the students' gifts for ministry and enrich the lives of those with whom they will minister in the future.

By the end of an immersion, students will be able to provide an adequate description of the "other" cultural group that includes an articulation of aspects of the consistent thought and behavior of the host cultural community.

Hence, each immersion is designed to include dialogue with hosts and experiential learning around a cultural inventory that consists of:

- Economic life: What are the characteristics of the system of production, distribution and consumption? What patterns of ownership, capital, resources and decision making are identifiable? Who owns? Who controls? Who pays? How does the economy produce group solidarity? How does it produce social conflict? What is the relationship between the local and global economy?
- Social life: What are the patterns of social relationship and the demographic characteristics of the immersion context? Do people relate to each other in terms of race, class, ethnicity, age group, sex group, and so forth? What is the basis for inclusion/exclusion in social groups? What are the dominant social problems? What general outlook on life is held by different social groups?
- Cultural life: What are the predominant values of the cultural group? What cultural themes manifest the group's consistent pattern of thought and behavior? Who influences the system of meaning out of which people live? What cultural knowledge are people using to generate behavior in their environment and organize a meaningful self-identity?

- Political life: What is the relationship between political life and the system of beliefs constitutive of the local culture? How do people relate culture as a structure of meaning through which people construe their experiences and politics as the context in which such structures unfold? What is the nature of political leadership? Who has a voice and decision-making power? What roles do religion, the media and/or popular culture have on political life?
- Religious life: What is the predominant religious expression within the local group? Are categories of thought religious or secular? How does religion give expression to the cultural group's ultimate concerns? Are religious beliefs and practices supported by the larger social community? What religious symbols play a role in the construction of group and self-identity (e.g. local mosque, Our Lady of Guadalupe, a holy place)?

SECTION FOUR
IMMERSION EXPERIENCE GUIDELINES

Immersion Experience Guidelines

The immersion experience constitutes the third element in fulfilling the requirements in the PMM Program. Participation in an approved immersion experience in an intercultural context, either internationally or in the United States is assigned 2 credit hours.

1. Students will engage in an immersion experience led by Wesley faculty or an educational provider approved by the PM&M Immersions Committee (students are not permitted to engage in a self-designed or individual immersion) *Please note that all trips are subject to cancellation.
2. Students will be expected to live in the context of the immersion among members of the culture being experienced.
3. Immersion Orientation sessions will be offered at least twice each semester for all who plan on participating in a future immersion.

Debriefing Seminar sessions for students who participated in a Wesley faculty led immersion will be conducted by the faculty immersion leader in the semester following the immersion experience.

Debriefing Seminar sessions for students who participated in a non-Wesley faculty led immersion will be offered each semester for all who have completed their immersion experience during the previous semester.

4. Students should register for MM-350 in the semester closest to the immersion dates and no more than one year prior to the expected immersion departure date. .

If the student is unable to participate in the immersion as planned and registered for, he or she must contact the PMM Office immediately to be removed from the immersion trip roster and must also complete an Extension of Time Request form, to be submitted to the Dean's Office, which will grant an "NR" grade for the MM-350 course. If the immersion is not completed within a year of this extension, the student will be required to re-register for MM-350 and attend a new orientation session before participating in an immersion.

5. At the conclusion of the immersion experience, each student will complete a two-part assignment due no later than 30 days upon the completion of the immersion.
  - I. Develop a five page integrative paper which addresses the theological issues and implications for ministry experienced on the immersion. This is to be a clear theologically focused paper connecting the immersion experience with current theological studies, ministry experience and one's personal experience of being a cultural person. (\** A guideline with questions for this paper follows in the appendices*).
  - II. The creation of a quality project on the immersion experience which will be shared with groups outside of Wesley Theological Seminary. This project could be in various formats and venues: e.g., a Power Point presentation to a church group; a short series of classes for a Christian education class; a comprehensive talk directed to a specific group interested in the immersion culture; or the creation of a full worship service.

Submission of assignments:

- I. Wesley faculty led immersions: students will submit the two-part assignment for review and grading to the faculty member who led the immersion.
  - II. Non-Wesley faculty led immersion: students will submit the two-part assignment for review and grading to the PMM Office/Immersion Coordinator.
6. Grading will be on a Pass/Fail basis. Immersion leaders will assess each student's experience and indicate to the PMM Office whether or not the student fully participated in the experience offered. Grading elements also include participation in both the orientation and debriefing sessions, timely submission of all required forms, and the integrative paper and project/presentation outline.

SECTION FIVE
IMMERSION PLACEMENT PROCESS

Immersion Placement Process

Steps to take to fulfill the Immersion Requirement

1. Indicate your interest in a particular immersion by consulting with the PMM Immersion Coordinator. Immersion opportunities can be found in the immersion brochure which is updated frequently. The brochure can be found in the plastic sleeve located outside the PMM Office (Suite K-107), online or on the bulletin board located across the hall between K-106 and K-107.

PLEASE NOTE:

- a. Wesley faculty-led immersions may have special instructions prior to signing up.
- b. Students will be given first priority to participate in an immersion when they have met course pre-requisites; those who seek graduation need to meet this degree requirement; and on a first-come first-serve basis.

2. Register and pay the tuition for MM-350.

PLEASE NOTE: The program fee associated with each immersion does not include tuition.

3. If you plan to attend a Wesley faculty-led immersion, obtain and sign the Immersion Agreement Form. This form commits you to the immersion and will hold a slot for your participation.

4. Pay the cost for your specific immersion in Wesley's Business Office. At any time you can set up an account with the Business Office to begin accumulating the required funds. Some immersions that are sponsored by other organizations require payments be made directly to them; however, you should consult with the Immersion Coordinator to see how the sponsoring organizations are requiring payments.

5. Some scholarship monies may be available to help subsidize your immersion. Please complete the scholarship application form (located in the plastic sleeve outside the PMM Office – Suite K-107) and return it to the Director of Financial Aid (Trott Administrative Building, 201).

6. Attend the required orientation session offered in the semester prior to your immersion.

7. Complete and submit the Immersion Application (Appendix A) along with the appropriate Waiver of Liability Form and Medical Information to the PMM Office. For January Immersions, submit the application no later than November 1st (or nearest school day after the date); for Summer Immersions, submit no later than March 15th (or nearest school day after the date). Take the "Immersion Certification" page with you on your immersion and have it signed by your immersion leader. The certificate is to be handed in prior to or at your debriefing session.

PLEASE NOTE: Signatures of your Learning Partners or Academic Advisor are to be secured prior to submitting the application form to the PMM Office. Applications will not be accepted without these signatures.

- a. If you are not currently in a PMM Colloquy, you only need the signature of your Wesley Seminary Academic Advisor.
- b. If you are in a PMM Colloquy, you need the signatures of both learning partners (clergy and lay).

8. Students will be expected to meet all requirements for participation as specified by the immersion setting sponsor or faculty member. These include: securing passports and visas as necessary; following recommended health precautions; and completion of the course, itinerary or schedule of activities as agreed.

PLEASE NOTE: International students who select an immersion outside of the United States must seek the Director of International Student Services three months prior to the immersion for consultation and to ensure completion of visa paperwork.

9. Go on your immersion and have the immersion leader sign the certificate of participation form. This form can be found on the final page of the Intercultural Immersion Application packet.

10. Write your reflection paper and develop your project presentation and submit them by the due date (30 days after returning from your immersion).

11. Attend a required debriefing session offered in the semester immediately following your immersion. Students who attend Wesley faculty-led immersions will have their debriefing session led by that faculty member.

12. Submit the Immersion Certification form to the PMM Office no later than the completion of the debriefing seminar. When you have completed all of the requirements and a passing grade has been submitted for you, you will receive a copy of the certificate for your records.

APPENDIX C

INTEGRATIVE THEOLOGICAL PAPER GUIDELINES

Questions to promote the writing of an Integrative Immersion Reflection Paper

Introductory Comment: Your integrative paper is to be a theological reflection upon your immersion experience. It is not a summary of what happened. It is not a journal of the day to day events. It is, however, a well thought out reflection upon your experience within a specific cultural context, a context which includes the people, the places, the events, the environment, the interactions with the individuals and groups. It includes your own grappling with disorientations, conflicts, and struggles with what you “heard, saw, and touched”. It is a reflection of your encounter with yourself within a different culture. The following questions are offered as stimuli to your own questioning of your experience:

- Where was God in the experience? Where was God for others in the culture?
- What biblical stories or images come to mind?
- What theological themes were prominent in your immersion experience? e.g.

Sin	Evil	Forgiveness
Redemption	Reconciliation	Joy
Despair	Transformation	Abandonment
Being	Doing	Faith
Works	Justification	Sanctification

- What church traditions connected with your immersion experiences?
- How did your experience come into conflict with your faith?
- What beliefs that you hold were reflected in the culture?
- What values that you hold were challenged by your encounter with this culture?
- What values that you hold were supported by your encounter with this culture?
- What might God want you to learn from this experience for your own growth as a cultural person, and for your preparation for ministry?

Resource: Reflecting with God by Abigail Johnson, The Alban Institute, 2004.

Project Proposal Guidelines

Your project should help you explore an expanded understanding of the church and the world. Now you have returned home from your Immersion experience and you have experienced a new dimension of the corporate shared world. This is a Communications project, intended to communicate what God is doing in the world. You have been exposed to another culture's story, and you are now its steward. How will you share it? Reflect theologically on how what you have experienced can be important to others.

When creating your project, think of the community in which you will present it.

Questions to guide you include:

- What does the experience I have had mean to the people I am presenting to?
- How is my experience able to be a means of grace for those I am presenting to?
- How is my project a means of grace for those who I am representing in my project?
- How am I honoring those who hosted me in my Immersion?

Your project should:

- make connections
- show interpretive work
- show spiritual work
- explore a sense of who we are as Church even across different places and/or cultures

APPENDIX D
NUMBER AND PRIORITY POLICY

INTERCULTURAL IMMERSION NUMBER AND PRIORITY POLICY (UPDATE EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2017)

Maximum Number of Students Allowed on Immersions

The maximum enrollment including audits for any immersion, international or domestic, will be 20; the minimum number of persons to go on an immersion is seven. The maximum number can be exceeded if the inclusion of an additional faculty leader has been planned and budgeted. Individual faculty leaders may at their own discretion choose to limit enrollment in an immersion to a number smaller than 20.

Priority

M. Div. students for whom the Intercultural Immersion is required for degree conferral and who have completed 24 hours will be given first priority for immersions. Students who sign up for an immersion sooner will be given priority over those who sign up later.

M.Div. students who have not completed 24 credit hours should seek permission from the PMM Office to participate in an Intercultural Immersion.

M.Div. students who have not yet completed the immersion requirement and are nearing the end of their degree program will be given special consideration for meeting this requirement among the immersion possibilities being offered, but this does not include special privilege for any particular immersion.

On the day designated for initial deposits as indicated on Immersion Agreement Forms, the enrollment will open to non M.Div. students as delineated below and as administered by the trip leader and PMM Office.

Following Wesley M.Div. students, matriculating students who are enrolled in other degree programs at Wesley will then be given priority along with students from the Washington Theological Consortium and other academic institutions with which Wesley Seminary has a reciprocal relationship.

Students taking the immersion course for credit will be given priority over students taking the immersion course as an audit.

Non-students, which include spouses of students and PMM Learning Partnership Teams, may participate in Wesley-led immersions, with permission from the faculty-leader, after all students have been given priority and consideration.
