Weekend COS at Wesley

- Weekend courses will be taught fully on-line through the end of May 2022.
- We are considering moving future courses to a hybrid format for all sessions. Please watch for an announcement before the end of the calendar year.
- We will also revisit the reopening of the satellite locations in New England and Philadelphia in the fall of 2022.
- We are also considering the best way to present the July session. We will publish this information as soon as we can. As you know, the pandemic has changed what is possible and we are working with a new canvas for our programming. We appreciate your patience.

Program notes:

- All students should have completed CS 121 and CS 122 before taking any other courses.
- Students are responsible for printing/viewing/saving the syllabus that is posted on the Wesley Website: <https://www.wesleyseminary.edu/course-of-study-current-students/>
- New students will receive via email their log in information once they are registered for classes in the Wesley Theological System.
- All students will be placed in a Blackboard course that corresponds with the course they are registered for. These courses will be made available (and thereby viewable by the students) by the faculty no later that two weeks prior to the course beginning.
- Grades are mailed out to students as soon as all grades are received for the term. COS grades are not viewable on-line for the Course of Study program.
